FROM THE MINISTER

I had a rare treat the other day. I stayed in bed late and stared into space doing absolutely nothing! Don't we all need those times when we simply switch off? However, the 'nothingness' did not last long. As I began thinking about the day ahead, I thought how blessed we are to have a church like ours in Kirkliston. So many of our churches are being forced to close or unite/link with other churches. This has happened just a few weeks ago in Dalmeny when they linked with South Queensferry. Why is this happening? The answer is quite simple. People no longer seem to see the relevance of attending church. There are so many other things that compete with their time. On the other hand, I hear on TV and in the papers and on the street here in Kirkliston, how unhappy people are with the influx of other faiths that seem to be somehow taking over from the established faith of our nation. That we (Christians) have to take a step back and compromise all of the time.

Some have even said they feel it is Christians who are now actually being persecuted, as in days of old, in order not to offend people of other faiths. E.g. not being able to wear a cross. Remember, the first Christians had to meet in secret and use 'secret' symbols like that of the fish, in case they were thrown to the lions! Well, I want to make clear that I am all for religious tolerance. That all people should be able to practise their faith in their own way. But –and it's a huge but– not at the expense of what I as a Christian believe, that Jesus is the way, the truth and the life. If people feel as strongly as I do, then the time has come to stop complaining unless you are willing to stand up and be counted! All our churches, including Kirkliston, should be filled to capacity at every possible opportunity. There is something in our church here that should appeal to every professing Christian in Kirkliston as well as worship every Sunday.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NEWS

I am pleased to say that the Sunday School numbers continue to increase with six new children joining us this term. Sadly we had to say goodbye to Mrs. Katie Marshall, who decided to retire from teaching Sunday School this year, but we welcomed two new members of staff, Mrs. Morag Carnall and Mrs. Jane Stein and we are so grateful that they volunteered to join us. The children enjoyed taking part in the Harvest Service and had fun making the posters which were on display in the Church.

This term we have been learning about some of Jesus' miracles. The children especially enjoyed the raising of Lazarus, as this involved wrapping Mrs. Woollven in bandages, which the children found hilarious! They were also very impressed when Mrs. Edwards turned water into wine (with a little help from some red food dye!).

As it is fast approaching that time of year, we will soon be starting our Christmas lessons and learning a new song for the Christmas service, which will be on 17th December. Later that day, we will have our Christmas party and hope that Santa will pay us a visit if he's not too busy. After this, we will break for the holidays, when the teachers can look forward to a well-earned rest! Sunday School will resume on 14th January.

Linda Moss,
Sunday School Superintendent.

Social Committee.

The Social Committee have organised a Carol Concert in the Church on Friday 15th December 2006 at 7.15pm. There will be Carols from the Ferry Singers, Kirkliston Primary School and last but not least the Congregation.

Refreshment will be served in the Church centre after the concert. There will be no charge for this event, however a free will offering will be collected after the concert to assist in paying for the costs incurred.

The more people who are involved the easier it is for everyone and I can assure you that you will get a lot of pleasure from helping out even if it is only once a year. Thank you to all the helpers, flower arrangers, those who have given to the flower fund and everyone who has offered words of encouragement. I can assure you that I appreciate it all.

During December as you know the Church is decorated for Christmas, however if you would like to put in a vase of fresh flowers please let me know as I always have to have flowers each week to hand out to those who need to know they are in our thoughts and prayers.

1st Kirkliston Boys Brigade

It seems a bit early to be writing the winter issue of the newsletter, when we are still cutting the grass and enjoying unseasonal temperatures. However not everyone is as lucky, my son in Thurso has had snow falling this week.

We have had quite an increase in numbers this year, with new boys joining Anchor and Junior sections, and new members of staff. We have 38 boys on the roll, so the increase in staff is a blessing. We welcome Debbie, Mark and Barry on to the staff, but unfortunately have to bid farewell to Duncan after 16 years as a member of the company, from anchor boy to Lieutenant. He is moving to Aberdeen in December and we all wish him well, our loss is Aberdeen's gain.

October started off as a very busy month, we had our stall at the cheese and wine party, from which we gained new members.

The next day, Lindsay took six of the boys in Junior section to Bathgate for the five a side football competition, we actually managed a whole team by ourselves this year and a reserve! Lindsay was very impressed by the boy's behaviour and team playing, and they all had a good day.

On the Sunday we were off to the Braids with Junior section again, this time for a Treasure hunt. The weather was pretty overcast and dull, but it didn't dampen the boys' enthusiasm and they really did well. We stopped off at MacDonald's for tea before heading to the church centre for our dedication service, which went very well.

After the service, Company section had a games night with invited guests from the Bearsden Company. It was a very busy weekend.

By the time you read this, company section boys, will have been skiing and swimming, and the next company event will be Remembrance Sunday service and parade. We hope to get a good turnout of the boys for what is a very important date in the calendar.

To check on future events and view photos log on to our website (<http://1kirkliston.boys-brigade.org.uk>).

We will finish up on 18th December, and return after two weeks off on the 8th January 2007.

On behalf of the 1st Kirkliston boys and staff, I would like to thank you for your prayers and support this year, and wish you a Happy Christmas, when it comes.

Valerie Edwards
(OIC Anchor/Junior sections)

Mary, did you know that your baby boy would one day walk on water?

Did you know that your baby boy would save our sons and daughters?

Did you know that your baby boy has come to make you new?

*This child that you've delivered will soon deliver you?
Mary, did you know?*

Mary, did you know that your baby boy is Lord of all creation?

Did you know that your baby boy will one day rule the nations?

*Did you know that your baby boy is Heaven's perfect lamb?
This sleeping Child you're holding is the Great I Am?
Mary did you know?*

Mary, did you know that your baby boy will give sight to a blind man?

Did you know that your baby boy will calm a storm with His hand?

Did you know that your baby boy has walked where angels trod?

*And when you kiss your baby, you've kissed the Face of God?
Mary, did you know?*

The blind will see, the deaf will hear and the dead will live again.

The lame will leap, the dumb will speak the praises of the Lamb.

Mary, did you know?

WHAT IS 'MINISTERS FREEDOM OF CONSCIENCE?'

Ministers in their parishes are held responsible for the exercise of care and jurisdiction over their pastoral charge. In the practise of ministry I (your minister) have discovered that all of our theological thinking remains only words until we go to the coalface of ministry: our parishes. There are many different parishes, served by many different ministers, all of whom bring to the Church's work, their integrity, faith and experiences. Recognising this the Church of Scotland has historically allowed ministers to exercise freedom of pastoral conscience and to use their own judgement in their ministries. This is our heritage and a much valued right. Moreover it speaks of a church that trusts its own ministers and finds a place for each of them in a broad church. Attempts by some to take away this freedom of pastoral conscience, to replace it with their own understanding of ministry and scripture would be a serious deviation from the best traditions of our broad, national Kirk.

Given that Civil Partnerships are now recognised by the civil law and have implications for human rights, housing and pensions, the Church cannot ignore this issue. The remit of the Legal Questions Committee, at the 2006 General Assembly, was to provide a response to the disciplinary issue potentially faced by ministers and not to respond to the wider issue (which will be debated at the 2007 General Assembly) of the Church's attitude to human sexuality. I believe that the Legal Questions Committee has struck a balanced way in this thorny issue. The Declaratory Act respects the integrity of all ministers and their theological viewpoints by recommending legislation which forces nothing on to ministers, whatever their view. This Act leaves room for those of diverse views within the practise of ministry, without forcing one viewpoint on the whole Church.

The larger question for the Church is where does the attempt to remove the right of pastoral conscience end? If a vociferous lobby on this issue succeed, which aspect in the pastoral life of ministers will be next under review? Why are some in the Kirk unable to trust their colleagues, and why do they seek to deny others the same pastoral freedom and respect they enjoy?

We all hope for Church unity even in the midst of difficult and contentious debates. For that unity to flourish, there must be an understanding that we all –on both sides of the debate- hold our opinions with sincerity and integrity. A church which allows its ministers freedom of pastoral conscience is a much richer than one which descends into a narrow legalism which says some are 'in' and some are 'out'.

At this moment in time I don't see a queue of gay people coming to the church for a blessing on their 'Civil Partnership'. In fact there is no queue for heterosexual couples either! However, if the situation does arise here in this parish I pray that I will be able to deal with it according to my conscience and my interpretation of God's Word. I also pray that whatever I feel instinctively, I may still love and care with the compassion shown to me by my Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

A TEST FOR ALL OF YOU WHO THINK YOU ARE SMART!

Below are 4 questions. You have to answer them instantly –no thinking time!

1. You are taking part in a race. You overtake the second person. What position are you in?

Answer: If you answered that you are first, then you are wrong! If you overtake the second person and you take his place, you are second! Try the next question.

2. If you overtake the last person you are....?

Answer: If you answered that you are second to last, then you are wrong again! Tell me, how can you overtake the LAST person? You are not very good at this are you?

3. Very tricky maths now! Note this must be done in your head. Do not use a calculator or paper and pen. Take 1000 and add 40 to it. Now add another 1000. Now add 30. Add another 1000. Now add 20. Now add another 1000. Now add 10. What is the total?

Did you get 5000? The correct answer is actually 4100. Don't believe it? Check it with your calculator! Today is definitely not your day. Maybe you will get the last question right.

4. Mary's father has 5 daughters. Nana, Nene, Nini, Nono. What is the name of the 5th daughter?

Answer: Nunu?

NO! Of course not. Her name is Mary. Read the question again!

Some Church Bulletin Bloopers, all of which have appeared in church bulletins or announced in church services, somewhere, at some time or other:-

- Miss Charlene Mason sang "I will not pass this way again", giving obvious pleasure to the congregation
- Barbara remains in hospital and needs blood donors for more transfusions. She is also having trouble sleeping and requests tapes of Pastor Jack's sermons.
- Irving Benson and Jessie Carey were married on October 24 in the church. So ends a friendship that began in their school days.
- At the evening service tonight the sermon topic will be "What is hell?". Come early and listen to our choir practice.
- A bean supper will be held Tuesday in the church hall. Music will follow.
- The fasting and prayer conference includes meals.

YOU are invited to join us for an EVENING PRAISE SERVICE

On the 2nd Sunday of each month, in the Thomas Chalmers Church Centre.

Refreshments are served after the Service

DORCAS LUNCH CLUB

The Dorcas Lunch Club is well under way again after our summer break. Two of our tireless workers have decided to retire – Jean Moffat, who was one of the original team, is taking a well earned rest after 18 years service & Ann Gowans is opting out as she has taken over the leadership of the walking group. Thank you both for all your help.

We welcome May Lindsay, Eileen Brown, Margaret Buchanan & Jenny Riddell to the team. May Scott, who is in hospital, is a big miss as treasurer but Cliff has stepped in meantime.

Our Fundraising Christmas Lunch will be held on Tuesday, 12th December, in the Church Centre between 12 noon & 2.00 pm. A three course lunch will be served along with tea/coffee & mints for £5.00. The proceeds will make a difference to the homeless & disadvantaged at Christmas. Please give this event your usual kind support.

With every blessing at Christmas and all good wishes for a Happy New Year.

Margaret Brechin Convenor (0131 333 3252).

The Guild

We were delighted to welcome friends old and new to the first meeting of the session on Wednesday 27th September. It was lovely to join together in fellowship after the summer break. There was, however, a cheery smile missing. Babs Fairbairn is no longer with us but we have all been left with warm memories of time spent together.

At our first meeting we welcomed Rev. Ellen Davidson to speak on the theme. The Guild theme for the next 3 years is "Let's Live - Body, Mind and Soul" and this session we are "honouring the body". Ellen gave a very humorous, personal and thought provoking talk. We also were delighted at our 2nd meeting when David Reid stepped in at the last moment and entertained us with memories of his cycle trip through Outer Mongolia. Our 3rd meeting on the Scottish Love in Action Project in India gave an insight into one of the projects we are supporting this year. Our November meetings include an Open Evening on November 8th, when Alison Robertson will explain how hymns for CH4 were chosen, and a talk on Care in the Community by Gillian Smith on 22nd November. Our final meeting before Christmas is our Christmas meal on 6th December.

Guild week is this year 19-26th November. The Guild will be holding a coffee afternoon on Thursday 23rd November, when we will be inviting housebound and those from sheltered housing, along with our own congregation members, to enjoy musical entertainment and afternoon coffee. We look forward to another enjoyable afternoon, everyone welcome to come along and join us.

Maureen Glen and Joan McConnachie.

Blue Light Disco

We played host to the Blue Lite Disco on Saturday 28th October and approximately 80 teenagers had a great night in the company of friends in the Thomas Chalmers Church Centre. The police officers involved were responsible for a trouble free night of fun and a good time was had by all.

Church Without Walls

We are continuing to have monthly meetings which anyone can attend to discuss how the church and God's love can be visible in the parish. We plan things like the new early Christmas Eve service; the recent cheese and wine evenings as a welcome to any new folk in the parish who wanted to learn about what goes on in the church, and most recently working with the police who ran their 'blue lights' disco in the hall. This coming six months we will be thinking especially about catering for the young people leaving Sunday school this year and look forward to hearing their own views about what they would be interested in doing. Please do look out for the times and dates of the meetings and come along. The November meeting will be on Weds 29th Nov, from 7.30-9 pm in the Church Centre.

Child Protection

People in the church working with children should all now have their booklets outlining the church's policies for safeguarding children. If you don't have one, please see Paula and ask for one. The new pocket sized cards have also arrived, which are to act as a wee handy reminder if you need to refer to it. I am also putting a spare copy in the creche small side room in case anyone needs to refer to a copy.
With regard to training, we have about 8 new staff who are due to go on the church's training session. These are usually held in Edinburgh but we are working with Queensferry to try to get a training session here in the new year, as they too have a number of new staff.
Please remember that no new helpers can start in a job with children without going through the safeguarding procedures, thanks

Sunday volunteers are urgently required by the Department of Spiritual Care at the Royal Edinburgh Hospital. Volunteers come along (on average every 6 weeks) on a Sunday morning 9.50 am until about 11.15am, to help the chaplain set up before worship, to befriend patients and visitors and to serve tea and coffee after the service. Full training will be provided.

A MOTHER'S PRAYER

Dear God, please give my boy many close friends, may they fill his days with adventure, security and dirty fingernails. Leave his mum and dad some magic dust that will keep him just as he is now. We'd just as soon he stayed 5 years old. Let him never be sent to war. His father and I love our country but we love him more. Give him a hunger for books, music and geography. May he be the first in his primary one class to find Madagascar on a map. Send more crayons. May our fridge door be ever plastered with his finger paintings and horses with big ears. Steer him ever so carefully to that little girl destined to be his bride and let his father and me still be around when he walks her down the aisle. If you are a just God, let her father be obscenely rich! Grant him a heart that will cherish what his parents did right and forgive us for the mistakes we surely have made over a lifetime of raising him. Let him not hold it against us that he was born with my ears and his father's chin. Time will teach him that these are your ways of girding him for life's adversities. Hold him steady on the day he learns the truth about the Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny. May he take the news better than I did!

AMEN

Traidcraft

This is the busy time of year for Fair Trade and the Christmas catalogues are already out (in October). Orders should be ready for the December stall which will be held on Sunday 10th December, as usual after morning worship. This will also be the last chance to buy Christmas cards. Thanks and warm Christmas greetings to all our customers and especially to the faithful helpers who work on the stall and go to the shop to pick up our monthly order of stock.

As usual I am happy to get other stock out the cupboard between stalls if anyone runs out of coffee or cereal! The Just World shop and the Edinburgh churches like ours who run stalls from there are doing so well that the shop has reached the level of trading where they have to pay VAT. The churches have therefore all been asked to reduce their percentage commission from 10% to 5% which we have gladly done.

Kirkliston continues to take its % in goods so that your cuppa after morning worship also contributes to support the hard-working folk all around the world who grow your tea and coffee. It means they get a fair price and profits for themselves, which they put back into their communities.

———— BABE NIGHT ————

The next babe night will be Friday Nov. 17th 7.30pm in the Church centre, our last this year. All ladies looking for a night away from home responsibilities are welcome to come along and join us, surprises in store as always.

At September's babe night entertainment was provided by Joy and her violin quartet, followed by the usual supper and home entertainment! A Blessed And Beautiful Evening for all present. We would welcome ideas from ladies for programme content for future BABE nights next year.

Christine, Joan, Maureen, Jean.

To Friends

Dear Friends,

I am writing to thank all who have been so kind while I have been in hospital.

I have appreciated the countless visits I have had from church members and from the minister. It's a very pleasant sight when a kent face pops round the door. In fact visits would be enough, but I must say Thank- you also for the gifts, cards and letters, all much appreciated.

I am feeling well, although very stiff and my leg is not quite healed yet. However I think I will be home soon and back to the fold.

Again my most heartfelt thanks and greetings, and best wishes to all.

Yours sincerely

May Scott
